Hi legionkillfeed.xyz,

Thanks for reaching out to us about our assessment of the review by havasu.

We've looked into the review again with the information you provided.

The review stays online

We don't have enough information to indicate that it's not based on a genuine experience, and we've seen nothing suspicious about the review or the reviewer. Therefore, we've decided to keep the review online.

We understand this may not be the outcome you had hoped for, but we can only take the review offline if it goes against our guidelines for the reason you flagged. If you believe the review is against any other guidelines, you can flag it for the relevant reason.

If you haven't already, we suggest replying to the review and sharing your side of the story.

If you have any questions or think we've made the wrong decision, please let us know by replying to this email.

Thanks,

Toqa F,
Content Integrity Team

Unacceptable. They have never used my product or been in my discord, you get a receipt number when you subscribe, they don't have one. We have never spoken. How can they review me if I have never spoken with "havasu" or whatever the fuck it was.

Cyber.gov.au/report CIRS-20240906-104

There is the police report information.

The can't verify they've use my bot or they would have by now,it's a part of a 16 month long harassment that has mate me attempt suicide once already. They outright brag that they are doing this shit to people but you fuckwits don't verify shit. You're a fucking joke. 24 websites they've made about me, they are actively trying to make me end my life and you are helping them, that is a crime.

Hi,

I genuinely empathize with your frustration and the perspective you've expressed. I understand that this may not be the desired outcome you were hoping for.

We apply Trustpilot's Guidelines for Reviewers consistently. That means we treat all reviews the same way, regardless of whether they're positive or negative. We also treat all companies equally — they must follow our Guidelines for Businesses, regardless of whether they subscribe to our paid services or not.

Trustpilot acts as a middle-ground between the reviewer and the company, and we treat both sides equally with no bias. So, the review was removed because we couldn't verify its authenticity. And we have to ask the reviewer for documentation proving their interaction with the company and/or their services.

And we give all businesses the opportunity to dispute the decision if they think that we've made a mistake.

So, I would appreciate it if you could provide a detailed explanation as to why you believe the review is not based on a genuine experience. Please feel free to share any specific evidence or information that supports your claim.

If you need any assistance, please feel free to reach out to us anytime.

Kind regards,

Sarah A,
Content Integrity Team

Hi legionkillfeed.xyz,

Thanks for your inquiry about the review by havasu, which you recently flagged as not based on a genuine experience.

The assessment

When a review is flagged for this reason, we no longer ask the reviewer to provide documentation of their experience. Instead, we run it through our new detection software that analyses various factors, including:

- Reviewer history (e.g., number of previous reviews, past invitations to review other businesses),
- Other suspicious patterns detected by our fraud detection software.

If the software determines that the content or the reviewer is suspicious, the review is taken offline; if not, it stays online.

The decision

In this case, we've assessed the review for the reason you flagged it and determined that it follows our guidelines. Therefore, we'll keep the review online.

Keep in mind, a reviewer who's had a genuine experience may not have purchased anything. They could have made contact with your business another way, e.g. they may have browsed your website or had an online chat with your business.

Tell your side of the story

You can always reply to this review to help win respect and credibility. Replies appear alongside the review, so readers get the full picture from both a company's and reviewer's point of view.

If you have any questions or think we've made a mistake, please let us know by replying to this email.

Thanks,

Content Integrity Team
