Hi Discord Trust & Safety,

I'm reaching out about a serious, coordinated harassment campaign that's currently targeting me and my project, Legion Killfeed.

This campaign spans multiple platforms and involves false accusations, mass reporting, and defamatory content. Of the participants, two were customers, but after repeated rude, disrespectful, and outright illegal behaviour, their access was revoked. Since then, they've escalated into public smearing - one even publicly called me a pedophile in a Discord and on review platforms, a baseless and criminally defamatory statement.

After weeks of abuse, I snapped and swore in frustration - something I fully acknowledge (I occasionally get flustered and forget words and the more I'm spammed the more frustrating it gets trying to get the right words out, it's tied to my anxiety and I genuinely do not mean it) - but these individuals are now mass-reporting my account with no legitimate basis, attempting to weaponize Discord's reporting system to silence me.

I've already submitted formal legal complaints to both Facebook and Trustpilot. These are supported by documentation including screenshots, Discord logs, and an active police case in the UK. I can provide the PDFs if needed.

Also, I'd like to ask if Discord Subscriptions will be available in Australia soon - being able to monetize directly on Discord would reduce my reliance on hostile external platforms.

Thanks for your time and understanding,
Anthony Brodie
